DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: it is unclear what can be applied to the tubular metal body as recited in claims, in which applicant is intending to encompass.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Toyama (U.S. 3,875,944).

Note in figures 1-3, a tubular metal body (10); the heating element (14) as described in col. 2, lines 45 thru col. 3, line 21 is considered to be an atmospherically activated exothermic coating; a packing container (see col. 2, lines 28-31); furthermore, wherein the needle (10) with heating element (14) enclosed within the packing container which is inherently when the packing container is opened, is exposed to atmospheric oxygen. As a result, an oxidation or exothermic reaction occurs, where heat generated from the needle (10) to the patient.

Conclusion

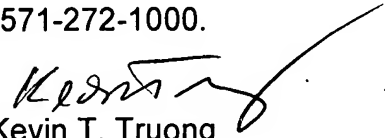

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gleason et al. (U.S. 5,211,175) discloses an electro-acupuncture system.
